PEAT'S Beast

Single Malt Whisky

SCOTCH WHISKY

Peat's Beast, created in 2011, wasn't just the brainchild of one person, but the collaboration of many great minds. Like any great drink, it's the combination of key ingredients that makes all the difference. We think our team make a pretty good dram.Eamonn Jones was a regional director at Whyte & Mackay, responsible of the sales of Dalmore, Jura and other great brands. Gerald Erdrich was his importer, distinguished in the business. Together these two great minds decided to come together and use their expertise and ingredients to make a brand, a beast. Who could make their beast come alive? For that, a creative genius was needed. Our dear departed friend Mark Graham assumed the role of creator. In collaboration with LA-based Brazilian artist Dough Alves, the iconic Beast was born.

PEAT'S BEAST SINGLE MALT

6 x 700ml / 46.0% Alc / Btl

Taste

Strong and bold with plenty of backbone, this great monster will unleash its fangs on your palate.
This is not for the faint-hearted.
Take a mouthful with the biting wind blowing furiously in your face.
Let it linger in your mouth, allowing the peaty smoke and creamy liquorice to penetrate every part of your tongue.
Time will tame it.

Colour

Straw yellow with glittering highlights.

Nose

A rugged fusion of sea spray, bonfire smoke, damp earth and spicy cinnamon immediately arouses the senses.
These powerful aromas of peat moss and wet grass must be fully respected before seductive notes of crushed pear, apple and freshly baked bread provide the perfect finish to this memorable melody.

PEAT'S BEAST SINGLE MALT BATCH STRENGTH

6 x 700ml / 52.1% Alc / Btl

Taste

You can feel its immense power as it pours onto your palate like a violent thunderstorm. You need to brace yourself. Its "natural strength" is untamed and ferocious. Yet, seconds later - this beastly peaty, fiery spirit is soon soothed by the warmth of your tongue. Almost immediately a calmness, a stillness pervades as seductive notes of moist banana cake, thick treacle, mocha with whispers of sweet pineapple , ginger and cumin finally come into play to give you an unforgettable aftertaste. Everyone has a little beast in them - this one more than most.

Colour

Glows like a barley field of shimmering gold.

Nose

Elegant and refined. Soft delicate honey notes are entwined with vanilla spice, creamy caramel and cinnamon. Then suddenly... the growl of bonfire smoke, sea spray, cardamom and tar rope hits you. The beast is awake!

Château Dauzac 2018

Tasting notes

Vves Beck
92-93/100

« Rouge grenat vivace. Belle intensité du bouquet qui révèle des notes fruitées et florales. Je relève une touche fumée, un peu de bois de réglisse ainsi que des baies sucrées. Caractère fruité et frais, instant. La mise en bouche est soyeuse et friande. Le vin dispose de tanins très fins qui se révèlent lentement et qui confèrent une belle assise à l'ensemble du palais. Je retrouve les notes de fraîcheur constatées au nez. Caractère tendu en fin de bouche avec une bonne expression aromatique au niveau de la finale. »

Terre de Vins

« La distinction des tanins comme signature du millésime, ils sont nombreux et soyeux à l'entrée. Bouquet suave et floral, touche de petits fruits noirs, équilibre construit sur la douceur, élégances, avec en milieu de bouche une sensation fraîche, tonique. »

JAMESSUCKLING.COM
93-94/100

« This is very structured and muscular, yet the tannins are so melted and polished. Full-bodied. Intense. Best ever? »

Château Dauzac 2019

Tasting notes

JAMESSUCKLING.COM 94-95/100

« This is linear and tight with beautiful concentration of tannins and dark fruit, as well as tar and dark chocolate. Full, yet racy and long. Very solid and structured with tannins that integrate well into the wine. Better than the 2018. »

Markus Del Monego MW 94/100

« Dark purple colour with violet hue and black core. Aromatic nose with fresh character, fragrant fruit reminiscent of black-currants, elderberries, mulberries, gingerbread spices, dark chocolate and fine toasting aroma. On the palate freshness and elegance, ripe tannins and multi-layered fruit, a fine wine with convincing length. »

Vves Beck 92-94/100

« Deep purplish red. Superb bouquet, complex and intense. Hints of black-currant and redcurrant followed by refreshing notes of eucalyptus and liquorice root. On the palate, the wine is unctuous and fruit-driven. It combines roundness and freshness, and is endowed with subtle tannins that integrate well and have the substance required for being in harmony with the racy structure. Nice aromatic intensity, persistent and fruity finish. A Dauzac of character! Recommended for drinking 2024-2044. »

JEAN-MARC QUARIN 92/100

« Attractive, purple and intense dark colour. Subtle, even deep, ripe fruity nose. Immediately fleshy right from the attack, with delicate feel, plush texture, the wine develops aromatic and flavourful, with nice length enhanced by a hint of crispness without angularity. Blend: 73% Cabernet Sauvignon, 27% Merlot.
100%-Vegan certified wine production. Recommended for drinking 2026-2050 »

O.P - Meilleur Sommelier du Monde

« The nose is precise and still primary, but the floral, spicy side tasted in the 2019 plot-by-plot wines is also present. The subtle spices and peonies provide finesse. The aromatic profile is a tad bit Burgundian. The woody taste is moderate for the time being. In the mouth, it shows nice identity with volume and nice amplitude, while keeping its ethereal yet rather fleshy side. It's a very supid wine with a developed tannin structure. Overall, it is a nice compromise between maturity and finesse. »

A preserved environment

The diversity of the property's 120 hectares, combining vineyards, meadows and forests, has undoubtedly determined the way in which the Château Dauzac ecosystem is managed. An overall approach has been implemented, starting with the development of a vegetable garden and arboretum. This was followed by the installation of around 15 bee hives that produce Dauzac honey (two or three harvests per year). Two-hundred fifty metres of hedges were then planted by our teams as refuges for certain species. These teams are currently involved in a three-year herbarium project that will involve harvesting and drying the plants that grow in the vineyards and park and that are used to treat grapevines. They will also be tasked with drawing up each plant's characteristics.

Château Dauzac, a 5th growth Grand Cru Classé Margaux wine according to the 1855 classification, has the privilege of having a one-block 49 hectares vineyard.

Careful wine-making

Harvesting is naturally manual, respecting the integrity of the fruit. Grapes are transported upstairs in small crates to take advantage of gravity and are carefully sorted twice. They are then put in a latest-generation grape stemmer preserving the quality of the grapes. Every plot is vinified separately in thermo-regulated vats, for the gentle and homogeneous extraction of tannins in the cap. Since 2015, the use of wooden vats with transparent double staves, designed by Seguin Moreau at the request of Château Dauzac, has provided insight into vinification by going to the heart of the vat, where fermentation takes place. Cold maceration lasts around eight days and is tailored to each plot and vintage, thus revealing the subtlety and complexity of this exceptional terroir. The Technical Director and Cellar Manager work particularly on the expression of press wines, with the support of computer-assisted vertical presses that contribute to a meticulous selection process, essential for complex blending.

Located in the southwest of France, the Bordeaux vineyard covers more than 110,000 hectares, influenced by a temperate oceanic climate and by the two rivers that cross the vineyard: the Garonne and the Dordogne. Its wines benefit from a "Protected Designation of Origin" (PDO) involving the conduct of strict specifications for their development. Coming mainly from the Merlot, Cabernet Franc and Cabernet Sauvignon grape varieties, the appellation offers wines of the three colors (red mostly with 85% of the volumes, white -dry and mellow- and rosé), and even sparkling wines with the Crémant de Bordeaux. There are 65 appellations within Bordeaux wines, and the appellation "Bordeaux et Bordeaux supérieur" represents 44% of the annual volumes.

In 1897, Aristide Mau created the company. At the beginning of the following century, his son, Yvon, walked the vineyard in Grand Bi, in search of the best wines. This spirit of "nugget discoverer" was then transmitted to Michel and then to Jean-François Mau.
Established for five generations in the heart of Bordeaux's Entre-Deux-Mers, Yvon Mau has always been a major player in the Bordeaux vineyard.

The site is also IFS, BRC certified and has obtained four years in a row the "Blue Label" from its British customer Tesco (best level). In addition, Yvon Mau, in partnership with the CIVB (Conseil Interprofessionnel des Vins de Bordeaux) is part of an environmental approach by being a member of the 1st Association for the SME du Vin de Bordeaux certified ISO 14001, and by committing via the CIVB "Bordeaux cultivons demain"

"Honjozo" is sake made with rice, water, koji and a very small amount of pure distilled alcohol to help extract flavour and aroma. Light, mildly fragrant and easy to drink.

Genshu

"Genshu" will have a high alcohol content and a strong flavor because no water was added after it was pressed. To serve, hot or cold water may be added.

Nama-chozo

"Nama-chozo" is sake only pasteurized once either after or before maturation, respectively. It has a fresh aroma. So, it is best served chilled.
